Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railway. Organized May 2, 1905, in Ohio. On February 1, 1908, defaulted in the payment of interest due in Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, following which the Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York, trustee, began suit in the U. S. Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, for the foreclosure of this mortgage. In 1910 after continued default on the general lien and divisional bonds, the principal was declared due in December, 1910, and after protracted contest, a decree of foreclosure and sale was obtained directing the sale of the property in its entirety, as one railway system. As of March 1, 1914, the road was reorganized as the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad. The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railway Company had an authorized and outstanding capital stock of $12,500,000 common, $7,500,000 first preferred and $5,000,000 second preferred, par $100, all of which was wiped out through foreclosure proceedings and reorganization. The consolidated bonds sold at auction in June, 1910, at 19¾ and there were other sales of this company's securities at a nominal figure. We have been further advised by the trustee's successor that the mortgaged property was sold under foreclosure in 1913 and the court ruled that the general lien and divisional first mortgage bonds were prior to the lien of the consolidated mortgage 4½ per cent. bonds. Furthermore, the funds received from the sale of the property were insufficient to pay in full the receivers' certificates. There is nothing available for distribution to the holders of bonds of either issue and we submit them as valueless.

Dollings, R. L., Company of Penna. There were three companies by this name. One was incorporated in Ohio, one in Pennsylvania, and one in Indiana. The Ohio company was the parent company. The business consisted in financing other concerns with money from the stock of the R. L. Dolling Company. No dividends were earned and the whole business was one of robbing Peter to pay Paul. Action for receiver was brought in June, 1923, and was uncontested by the company. The officers were charged with dominating the policies of 26 subsidiaries through nominal directorates, and when some of the 80,000 stockholders demanded their money back it was refused them. As preferred stockholders, they could not vote until four dividends had been passed, and the officers, it was alleged, paid dividends out of capital assets to prevent this. Petition to discharge receivers in November, 1923, was refused by Judge Dickinson in U. S. District Court. Last quotations of the preferred stock of the Pennsylvania company were reported in June, 1926, when 100 shares were bid at 2½. There were no offers. Dona Louisa Copper Company. Organized about 1907 as a consolidation of the Dona Louisa Copper & Gold Mining Company and the La Natividad Mining Company, both of which companies owned copper lands located at Coapa, Morelia, Michoacan, Mexico, and were held under considerable suspicion. In the case of the Dona Louisa Copper & Gold Mining Company, development and equipment were along sensible lines but the company lost favor when in selling its stock it paid 10 per cent. dividends from sales. The La Natividad Mining Company made grossly exaggerated statements in its advertising, paid dividends from stock sales and was classed as a very dubious proposition if not a swindle. The Registrar and Transfer Company was given as transfer agent of the consolidated company. Learn there that they have had no dealings with or heard from the company in a number of years. Dreamland Corporation. The Title Guarantee and Trust Company of Brooklyn, New York, is the trustee for both the 6 per cent. debenture bonds and the first mortgage bonds, due January 1, 1914 (income bonds). On November 10, 1910, the trustee advised us that there had been a suit instituted by some of the holders of the debenture bonds for a foreclosure thereof, and the sheriff sold. After payment of expenses, the balance of the funds realized was paid to judgment creditors. The trustee received this information from the attorney for the plaintiff. These bonds are absolutely worthless. Concerning the income bonds, this mortgage was made for $750,000 at 6 per cent., dated March 12, 1904, and due January 1, 1914. We would suggest that you send a full description of the mortgage bond that you have, to the Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Brooklyn and they will be better able to advise you, as we notice there are several mortgages on the properties of the Dreamland Corporation.

Drexel Motor Car Corporation. This company was the successor to the Furmack Motor Car Corporation, which was organized under the laws of the State of Virginia in March, 1915, with a capital of $1,000,000 all common stock, full paid, nonassessable. Capitalization was increased to authorized $2,000,000 by the new company. All common stock with a par value of $10 a share. In July, 1916, company offered $200,000 of stock to public at par, subject to withdrawal or advance in price without notice. In January, 1917, company offered $650,000 of stock to public at $10 and this was said to provide for a production of 25 cars daily instead of the former 5 cars produced daily. With this offering, company stated to have made arrangements for a loan to investors of 75 per cent. on par value of their stock the day stock was purchased, if they so desired. Company did not make the loan themselves, but arranged to negotiate loans from others upon certificates of stock sold, for accommodation of purchasers. Financial statement as of December, 1916, showed assets of $491,740.58 with liabilities, exclusive of capital stock amounting to $31,521.52. Company was probably over-sanguine about future prospects and in 1917, a plan for refinancing the company, that was satisfactory to the creditors' committee, not having been forthcoming from the shareholders, the property was sold at auction October 24, 1917, at an upset price of $102,000. The officers of this company were as follows: Albert J. Farmer, president; Ernest L. Leebke, vice-president; Hover Sullivan, secretary-treasurer, with the foregoing and Thomas F. McFarland and Herman A. Yates as driectors. Company had general offices and factory at 76th and Wallace Streets, Chicago, Illinois. There have been no quotations of these shares since 1918, and we do not attach any value to this stock.

Duesenberg Automobile & Motors Company, Inc. This company was succeeded by the Duesenberg Motors Company of Indiana in March, 1925. Creditors of the old company received 60 per cent. in new bonds and 40 per cent. cash. Stockholders of the old company received stock of the new company. The company again changed its name to Duesenberg, Inc., but we do not know if an exchange of stock was again made. This latter company has outstanding two classes of stock, Class "A" and Class "B". In summer of 1927, the Auburn Automobile Company made an offer to the stockholders of Duesenberg, Inc., to purchase their stock issuing one share of Auburn for every 10 shares Class "A" or 40 shares Class "B" which stockholders of Duesenberg turned in for exchange. Stockholders having less than 40 shares of Class "B" were offered $2.50 per share in cash. Most of the stockholders took advantage of this offer. The offer expired September 16, 1927, so that no exchange can be made at the present time. However, Pruitt & Grealis, attorneys at law, located at 120 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois, claim that they have a client who will purchase a limited number of shares of Class "B" for $2.50 per share. Eastern Finance Corporation. This company is one of a great number of smaller finance companies organized in Massachusetts in 1920. We understand that Leroy P. Russell, Ellis W. Jones and Margaret W. Reagan were the original incorporators. The purpose of the company was to finance the sale of automobiles and it appears that Mr. Russell had had some previous experience in this field, having been connected at one time with the Auto Sales Finance Corporation of Boston. We understand that many changes were made in the personnel of the company subsequent to its inception. It seems that the company never did operate on an extensive scale but about 1923 it was said that they were having unusual difficulty in getting business. The company subsequently reported dormant in 1924. Stock was never actively traded in and as far as our records show Phillips & Company of Boston were the last brokers to be interested in this stock in 1923. Emerson Motors Company, Inc. Incorporated Delaware, April, 1916. Capital stock, $10,000,000 divided into 700,000 shares of common stock and 300,000 shares of preferred stock; par, $10. Remarks: Promoters took 330,000 shares of common and 270,000 were sold to N. F. Wilson for $470,000 in promissory notes and 100,000 shares were left in the treasury. Wilson entered into an agreement with brokers who sold the stock to the public at from $3 to $8. The preferred was handled by the company and was sold to the public for $10 a share with common stock bonus. The company was ambitious in its printed plans, but its energies went into selling the stock for nearly $4,000,000 to a gullible public. Early in June, 1917, the Federal Grand Jury returned indictments against the company and 14 individuals for using the mails in execution of a scheme to defraud the public. On the same day the indictment was returned, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company by three stockholders and a receiver was appointed. Reorganization plan: Each stockholders was assessed 30c per share held and were to receive at par, first preferred stock in the new company, to the extent of 33 1/3 per cent. of his holdings of old stock, either preferred or common. Stockholders who did not subscribe were to receive to extent of 33 1/3 per cent. of their holdings of old stock of the particular class then held. Campbell Motor Car Company was incorporated in October, 1917, to put into effect this reorganization plan. It had a capital stock of $1,906,296, of which $1,000,000 was first preferred, $113,700 second preferred, and $792,-296 common stock. The fact that T. A. Campbell, the president of the Emerson Motor Company, was retained as president of the new company was not a very encouraging sign. In August, 1917, the reorganization committee reported the company was turning out three cars a day, but had a capacity for 50 per day. Physical assets at the time were valued at approximately $640,197, by certified public accountants. On May 7, 1919, a stockholder filed suit against the company and a receiver in equity was appointed. Debts of $60,000 were pressing the company. On January 23, 1922, the State of Delaware repealed the charter for failure to pay taxes for two years. In view of the above and because no quotations have been found for several years, we believe the stocks of these companies to be valueless at the present time.

Emerson Phonograph Company, Inc. Incorporated under the laws of New York State on April 17, 1915, for the purpose of manufacturing 6-inch records to retail at 10 cents each and a small three-dollar phonograph. Company also planned to manufacture the "Electrola," a combination of an electrolier and a phonograph, which was concealed within the base of the electrolier, the sound waves being conducted up through the stem and out through the globe containing the electric lights. Capital stock consisted of $1,000,000, par $5 each share. All of one class but was increased on December 15, 1919, to $1,500,000 by the creation of a new issue of $500,000 8 per cent. cumulative preferred (a. and d.) stock, par $100. $40,000 shares of the original issue contributed to the treasury for the purposes of the corporation. There were no bonds or mortgages or other indebtedness. The Guaranty Trust Company was the transfer agent and registrar for the company. Company owned all the outstanding stock ($2,000,000) of the Emerson Phonograph Company of Delaware. On December 9, 1921, receivers were appointed for both the New York and Delaware companies, subsequent to which the assets were sold by order of court. Amount realized from the sale was not sufficient to pay creditors in full, consequently the stockholders were wiped out.

Emerson Truck & Tractor Company. Incorporated under the laws of New York in August, 1916, with $3,500,000 preferred and $9,000,000 common stock, of which the Emerson Motors Company, with which it was allied, retained $4,500,000 as promotion stock. Note on Estates of Long Beach—Organization: The Estates of Long Beach, incorporated under the laws of New York on February 22, 1907, for the purpose of buying, selling and improving real estate. The property consisted of 2,208 acres located at Long Beach, Hempstead, Long Island, which the company purchased from the Village of Hempstead, for $3,108,400. Upon this property there had been constructed residences, hotels, piers and other improvements, having expended in all a total of $4,487,957 up to March 15, 1911. Subject to call in whole or in part at any time at par and interest. Authorized issue $5,000,000 of which amount $2,478,500 have been retired. Trustee, Title Guarantee & Trust Company, Brooklyn, New York. $1,886,900 first gold 6's dated 1910, due July 1, 1920. Authorized issue $2,000,000 of which amount $113,100 have been retired. Total $4,408,400. Assets and liabilities as of March 15, 1911. Assets: Money due on lots sold but not conveyed $846,319.00, accrued interest $22,721.00, treasury bonds $45,500.00, mortgages in treasury $147,537.00, water company bonds $15,000.00, cash and bills receivable $1,619,341.00, 21,379 lots unsold $2,287,782.00, total $4,984,200.00; liabilities, bonded debt $4,760,700.00, bills payable $223,500.00, total $4,984,200.00. The foregoing figures were the latest rendered by the company, the 1912 and 1913 figures not being given out. Therefore, as of March 15, 1911, the total assets were $4,984,200 against which we have a bonded debt of $4,760,700, in addition to which there were bills payable of $223,500. This in our opinion did not show very good security for the bonds of the company, there being too small a margin between the assets and the bonds outstanding. At about March, 1911, the real estate market for the property of this company became very dull and remained so for some years and accordingly the sale of lots fell off, while on the other hand improvements to the property were continued which resulted in considerable expense. Practically the only income of the company came from the sale of lots and as the sales fell off the company found itself unable to meet its obligations. This resulted in the default in interest due January 1, 1915 on the Estates of Long Beach First Gold 6's dated July 1, 1907, due July 1, 1917, after which came the foreclosure proceedings and reorganization. These bonds never enjoyed an active open market for which reason it is difficult to establish the market price prior or subsequent to the date of default. On April 22, 1913, the First Gold 6's dated 1910, due July 1, 1920, were appraised at 45 per cent. based upon opinion of the president of the company of 40 to 45 per cent. As of August, 1912, there was a nominal bid of 77 per cent. for a $5,000 par value lot of the First Gold 6's dated 1907 due 1917, and in about September, 1915, said bonds sold at auction at 40 per cent. During the first six months of 1916 the bonds sold privately at about 30 per cent. In May, 1915, the president wrote that the bonds had a value of about 65 per cent. In 1918 brokers advised that 18 per cent. represented the market for the bonds. This is about all there is reported in regard to the market for the bonds prior and subsequent to January 1, 1915, the date of default. In June, 1913, it was reported in the New York Times under heading "Sue Long Beach Estates" that a suit had been brought to compel the Estates of Long Beach to fill a certain contract with the Town of Hempstead and again in November, 1913, under the heading "Ocean Causes $3,000,000 Suit", this suit was again referred to in the press. In September, 1915, it was stated in the press that owing to dull realty market and the prospect of little improvement it was planned to readjust the finances of the Estates of Long Beach. It appears to us quite apparent that the bonds of this company were never a good investment and that such facts were available to any one seeking information. While the company did not make a policy of publishing and distributing broadcast any great amount of information, there was no attempt to hide or keep under cover any financial facts or figures and on several occasions we called at the office of the company before and after the default of January 1, 1915 and never had any difficulty in obtaining information.

Evangeline Oil Co. The Evangeline Oil Co., of Brockton, New York, was organized to take over the Empire-Texas Oil Co. of New York and we understand asked the Empire Co. stockholders to turn in their Empire stock for a proportionate amount of the Evangeline Co. stock. We understand its producing wells emitted about 300 barrels per day and it was reported that the offer of exchange of stock did not have any great possibilities for stockholders. 11,000 shares of Evangeline Oil Co. stock were sold at auction in 1923 for $5 the lot. Y.; secretary and treasurer, Herbert M. Tyner, 561 West 74th Street, N. Y. C. Office: 100 East 42nd Street, N. Y. C. 62 East Railroad Avenue, Brocton, Mass. We are informed as follows by the trustee for this company: "The principal assets of the company consist of about $500 cash, a stock of rubber heels of obsolete design, and patents covering the Evernu rubber heel (which was equipped with a rotatable disk), and patents covering the Rainy Daisy hat protector, which is a rubber cap designed for the protection of women's hats in rainy weather. There was also some machinery for the manufacture of the heels subject to a lien for storage, etc., which leaves but little equity in the machinery. I have communicated with some forty manufacturers of rubber goods who might be interested in these lines, and with the officers of the defunct corporation, but it has proved utterly impossible to find any market for the assets. The total claims approximate $8,000. There is no likelihood of any dividend for the stockholders or of any reorganization."

Flint Motor Company. Company has an office at 250 West 57th Street, New York City, and under date of June 14, 1928, advises as follows:

"Flint Motor Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan in July, 1922. The announcement of the project to undertake the building of the Flint car created a very widespread public interest, and the exhibition of the first car at the Commodore Hotel in New York in January, 1923, produced a great sensation and confirmed the management of your company in their opinion that the car would meet with a very large public demand, to take care of which the extensive factory buildings at Flint, Michigan, were designed and erected. Upon the completion of the plant in in the fall of 1923, manufacturing operations were at once commenced. In the meantime, production had been carried on by Locomobile Company of America, Inc., in Long Island City, which, however, was discontinued after the completion of the Flint plant, all production thereafter being carried on at the latter plant.

The Flint line is and always has been a most attractive line and a worthy competitor of automobiles in its price class; but regardless of its merit, the management of your company has found it impossible to secure distributors and dealers to provide a profitable production schedule. The inability of our distributors to make money forced us to establish branches in the key cities of the United States, the operation of which branches entailed enormous losses, making it necessary to discontinue them and leaving the company with no outlet for its product.

In addition to the foregoing, the large excess capacity of the plant at Flint, Michigan, involved an overhead which so greatly increased the cost of production of the small volume actually manufactured that the factory operations also resulted in a tremendous loss, as the result of which it was finally deemed wise by your Board of Directors to relieve the company of the burden by making a sale of the plant at the best possible price, although this involved a very considerable loss.

After the sale of the plant at Flint, Michigan, cars were manufactured under contract with Durant Motor Company of New Jersey at Elizabeth, New Jersey, without profit to the latter company, excepting as the increased production at the plant helped to reduce the overhead of Durant Motor Company of New Jersey. At this stage the company was entirely without working capital through its previous losses, and the only purpose in continuing the production was, as far as possible, to reduce the commitments of our suppliers and to use up the productive material that was on hand, thereby reducing losses as far as possible.

The management of course also had the hope that with the decreased cost of operations in Elizabeth it might be possible to recoup some of the losses and continue the business, but the resistance to the sale of cars and the absence of capital necessary to create new models and bring the line of cars up to date, have led your management to conclude that it was absolutely impossible to continue the company. It must also be borne in mind that considerable expense would have to be met in redesigning the line of cars if the business were going to be continued.

The condition of the company at this time is such that the proceeds from the sale of any assets on hand would be insufficient to take care of the actual liabilities of the company, and therefore the statement is regretfully made that your Flint Motor Company stock has no value."

Ford Tractor Company. A fake promoted by Robert P. Matches and William B. Ewing. Put a Minneapolis man by the name of Ford on its payroll so it could use the name. Defrauded some 3,000 people out of about $350,000. Stock worthless. See Vol. I.

Ford Tractor Company, Inc. Organization: This company was incorporated in 1916 under the laws of the State of Delaware, succeeding, according to official announcement, to the business of the Ford Tractor Company of South Dakota. It appears, however, that at the time this company was organized the South Dakota Corporation was in receiver's hands and that the Delaware Corporation only acquired two patents of the former concern which did not pass to the receiver. The original Delaware Company was organized as the Ford Tractor Company, Ltd., with capital stock of $1,000,000. Later the name was changed to Ford Tractor Company, Inc., and the Capital Stock increased to $10,000,000, the majority of which was owned by W. Baer Ewing of Minneapolis, the president of the company.

Capital Stock	Authorized & Issued	Par
Common	.....$9,000,000.00	$10
Preferred	.....1,000,000.00	10

The common stock is said to have been issued to Mr. Ewing for the patent rights of the South Dakota Company, for which he is understood to have paid $8,000. Mr. Ewing is reported to have turned $3,000,000 of this stock back into the treasury of the company to be sold by the firm of Robert P. Matches & Company. According to a report made by the National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World this stock was to be delivered to the brokers on a sliding scale under which the company was to receive $850,000 and the brokers $2,150,000 if the contract was carried out. Moreover, according to this report the sliding scale began at a low figure and rose, so that if the contract was not carried out fully the proportion going to the brokers would increase and that going to the company would decrease accordingly. The stock appears to have been first offered in January, 1917, at a price of $4 per share. In the latter part of the same month the price was increased to $4.50 and in March to $5 per share. The following taken from the March circular is typical of what preceded: "This is your last chance. This is the last call. Today is the last day. Don't let this opportunity pass. Take my advice and secure every share that you possibly can of Ford Tractor Stock while you can get it at a low figure and on easy terms. This is your opportunity to get into the tractor field right, and this is the time for you to plunge heavily. You may never again have another opportunity such as this." Plant: The company reported owning a factory in Minneapolis with a capacity of 20 tractors per day and the capacity according to official announcement was to be increased to 25,000 tractors per year. In January, 1917, it was reported that there were orders on hand sufficient to keep the factory running night and day and that "where hundreds of Ford Tractors have been sold the demand is for thousands." However, the Vigilance Committee, to which we have already referred, reported that it was informed that the company moved into its place of business November 13, 1916, and that from that date to February, 1917, but one tractor was built and nine tractors partially completed in that building. No Financial Statement has been issued by the company officers (old): W. Baer Ewing, president and general manager; Hon. Charles B. Elliott, president; M. R. Johnston, secretary-treasurer. Directors (old): The above and James H. Meier, John Smith, R. A. Jaconson, Paul B. Ford. We understand that Mr. Ford severed his connection with the company. Office (old): Ford Tractor Building, Minneapolis, Minn. Remarks: From what we can ascertain about this promotion, its chief end was to make money out of the use of the name of Ford. It appears that the Ford connected with the enterprise is or was only a salaried employee whose name was obtained from the Minneapolis directory in order to mislead the public. Although official circulars say that the tractor was designed by Mr. Ford, it seems that a man named Kinkead working for Mr. Ewing had practically completed the design before Mr. Ford had anything to do with the undertaking. Mr. Ford himself is quoted as saying that he was a mere figurehead. Investigations made by responsible parties do not confirm the statements made by officials or by promoters and would make it appear that the stock is worthless. We find an auction sale of 20 shares at $4, the lot on December 15, 1923, sold by Barnes & Lofland of Philadelphia and since the Delaware charter was repealed on January 17, 1921, for non-payment of taxes for two years, we certainly consider it as valueless.

Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company. Sometime previous to 1889 a Dr. J. M. Ford of Kansas City "discovered" the small town of Fort Payne, Alabama, with its 500 people and certain iron ore and coal in near proximity. He had associated with himself, C. O. Godfrey of St. Louis, and they organized the Fort Payne Land & Improvement Company which acquired 32,000 acres of land in and about Fort Payne, the whole costing them, it was said, $150,000 or $200,000. Wendell P. Rice comes upon the scene about 1889 as an acquaintance and associate of Ford and Godfrey. He organized the Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company with a capital stock of $5,000,000. This new company was to buy the 32,000 acres of the Fort Payne Land & Improvement Company and develop a great iron industry. There were 50,000 shares of the Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company stock of a par value of $100 each and it was advertised that these shares would be sold at $25 each. Forty thousand shares to be sold, leaving ten thousand shares in the treasury. Wendall P. Rice's success in Kansas City had been phenomenal and his name was a tower of strength to the new company. When the subscription books were opened in New England there was what might appropriately be called a rush of investors. The rush was greatest in Vermont, but Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Maine were not far behind in the order named. The stock was considerably over-subscribed for. Mr. Rice had associated with himself as officers of the company some excellent men, like Col. J. W. Spaulding of Portland, Gov. Goodell of New Hampshire, and ex-Gov. Connor of Maine. Their names gave people confidence that the affairs of the company would be managed in good faith, and there seems to be no reason to doubt that those gentlemen used all the influence they could wield in favor of such management. When the million dollars had been realized from the sale of the 40,000 shares of stock at $25 a share, the first thing done was the purchase of the 32,000 acres at Fort Payne from the Fort Payne Land & Improvement Company for the sum of $750,000. As the Fort Payne Land & Improvement Company is not supposed to have paid over $200,000 at most for the property, it will be seen that Messrs. Ford and Godfrey must have pocketed a snug margin. After purchasing the land, the company had about $250,000 remaining and with this it began extensive operations for the development of a great industrial city. The enterprise seemed an assured success. The stock, which had been sold at $25, went up to $50 a share. The improvement which the company made was marvelous and was reported, to seem almost like the creations of the genii of the "Arabian Nights". The $250,000 residue after the Land & Improvement Company was bought out, was supplemented by a very large sum realized from the sale of land to private parties. There was a big influx of Northerners to the new town and the company sold land at good terms. It must have realized large sums for in the Fall of 1890 the company advertised that it had expended the astounding sum of over $3,000,000 and still had other developments in view. Some of the things done by the company was the construction of a fine hotel, water works, electric lights, railroad, fire-clay works, development of coal and iron mines, coke ovens, stove works and $30,000 in streets. The fame of Fort Payne, Alabama spread abroad. In February, 1889, it had a population of 500 or 700 persons, which the census of 1890 showed 3,500 people and its valuation had sprung up from $100,000 in 1888 to $3,000,000 in 1890. Lots rose in value from $8 to $200 a front foot on Gault Avenue, the principal street of the city. Those who speculated in real estate began in the year of 1890 to find their holdings drag on the market. The mills and furnaces of the company did not get to running as was expected and some said the coal was found to contain too much sulphur for the production of coke, and that the iron mines were not of such kind as to be worked at a profit. The Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company found itself in straitened circumstances and it was decided that the 10,000 shares of treasury stock should be sold. W. P. Rice had started in Boston the banking house of W. P. Rice and Company and it was decided that he should be the selling agent, at a commission, said to be fixed at $7 a share. About this time the stock of the company was selling at about 37, it having sagged back from the 50 which it reached in the boom times. The figure at which the treasury stock was to be sold was 37, and the problem before W. P. Rice & Company was to put out 10,000 shares upon the New England market without knocking the stock down disastrously. W. P. Rice & Company decided to bolster up the market while they were selling the 10,000 shares for the company by taking all Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company stock offered at 37. It is stated that W. P. Rice & Company sold the treasury stock, but in supporting the market they practically bought it themselves and much more with it. As soon as W. P. Rice & Company ceased supporting the market the stock began to fall, and was down to 10 in February, 1891. In the early part of 1891 the stockholders began to be uneasy. W. P. Rice had been vice-president and manager of the company and at the meeting held in February, 1891, he was succeeded by Gov. Goodell. At this meeting the company decided to raise money to carry on the enterprise by issuing $300,000 of 8 per cent. bonds. In all about $200,000 of these bonds were sold and with this money and Gov. Goodell's administration, considerable was expected by the stockholders. But they were disappointed. Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company stock declined to advance and even went the other way, so that when the annual meeting of February 1892, came around, there was a large body of dissatisfied stockholders. Through this dissatisfaction, Mr. Rice managed to get back again, although vigorously opposed by the Goodell influence. From then on the company was under the Rice management until about September, 1892, when a receiver was appointed. At the time of the appointment of the receiver it was stated that the bondholders might get their money or a part of it back, but that the 18,000 stockholders must charge off to profit and loss what they put into the enterprise. W. K. Shelton of Fort Payne, Alabama, was the receiver, and at a stockholders' meeting held October 19, 1892, reported that the debts, less the assets, would be more than $400,000. A reorganization committee was appointed and proposed that a new company be formed with a capital stock of $500,000 to purchase the assets of the old company. The total cash value of the assets of the Fort Payne Coal & Iron Company were reported as of October 31, 1892, as $573,000 against which there was an indebtedness of $410,965.57. In the reorganization proposed the old bondholders were asked to take new stock to the amount of their bonds and the old stockholders were given the right to subscribe to new stock at par. W. K. Shelton, the receiver was made trustee to receive all subscriptions, the time for which expired December 15, 1892. We do not believe the stockholders took very kindly to the reorgnization proposed and we therefore are of the opinion that the reorganization as proposed was not successfully carried through. The probabilities are that the old bondholders foreclosed the property thereby bringing to a rather disastrous end a $2,000,000 investment made largely by New Englanders.

Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Company. Incorporated March 25, 1905, in Indiana and Ohio; road opened November, 1905, connecting Fort Wayne, New Haven & Monroeville, Indiana and Lima, Elida, Delphos, Middlepoint and Van Wert, Ohio. Miles of road 59.84. On March 1, 1906, road was leased until expiration of franchises and renewals thereof to the Lima & Toledo Traction Co., which guaranteed the interest. The lease was assigned, August 31, 1907, to the Ohio Electric Rwy. In 1916, a new lease was entered into, but on August 5, 1921, lease was abrogated by order of the Federal Court. Authorized and outstanding capital stock, $500,000 common and $500,000 5 per cent. non-cumulative preferred, par $100. Interest was defaulted January 1, 1920, on the first mortgage 5s dated July 1, 1905; due July 1, 1930. Fidelity Trust Co. of Phila., Pa., trustee (authorized $2,000,000, outstanding $1,470,000). Bondholders committee formed with T. H. Atherson, secretary, 325 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa., requested bondholders to deposit their bonds with either the Fidelity Trust Co. of Phila., Pa., or the Peoples Savings & Trust Co., Pittsburg, Pa., depositories. Plan of reorganization dated June 1, 1926. Properties sold at receivers sale on October 27, 1926, for $150,000, and in the reorganization the Fort Wayne-Lima Railroad Company was organized with $100,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due 1942, which were sold for cash and proceeds applied to the payment of obligations to the reorganization and otherwise, and for working capital; $434,400 general mortgage 5 per cent. bonds (interest at rate of not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum payable only if earned from 1927 to 1931 inclusive, thereafter at 5 per cent. as a fixed obligation) due 1957 and 10,136 shares of capital stock, of no par value. Certificates of deposit representing the Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Company first mortgage 5s dated 1905 were exchanged for Fort Wayne-Lima Railroad general mortgage 5s due 1957 and capital stock, each holder of a $1,000 par value Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Co. first mortgage bond receiving a $300 par value general mortgage 5 per cent. bond due 1957 and voting trust certificate for 7 shares of no par value stock of the Fort Wayne-Lima Railroad. Apparently no provision was made for the old Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Co. preferred or common stock which we believe was wiped out through the reorganization. In a statement dated June 27, 1927, to the Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Co. first mortgage 5 per cent. bondholders, it was stated that $6,600 (par) general mortgage bonds and 154 shares of common stock of the Fort Wayne-Lima R. R. were reserved to be issued in the discretion of the board of directors in exchange for undeposited first mortgage bonds of the Fort Wayne, Van Wert-Lima Traction Co., upon such terms as may be prescribed. The Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Company first 5s of 1905 and the certificate of deposit representing said bonds were quoted April 30, 1927, at 30 bid, 35 asked. Practically all of the common and preferred stock of the Fort Wayne, Van Wert & Lima Traction Company was held by the Ohio Traction Company.

Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company. The present Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company is successor of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, which latter was formed in 1856 as the result of the merger of several companies, of which the Fort Wayne & Chicago R. R. Co. was one. However, as the result of the failure of the consolidated railroad company to meet its fixed charges, it went into the hands of receivers in 1859, and under a reorganization plan adopted in 1860, the present Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company was formed, and effective July 1, 1869, it was leased to the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. for 99 years. The present railway company was never absorbed and still maintains its corporate existence. Under the plan of reorganization referred to, the holders of the stock of the consolidated railroad company received capital stock of the railway company, but only in case the exchange was made prior to January 1, 1861. As the shares to which you refer were never exchanged for those of the consolidated railroad company, the holders thereof, of course, did not qualify to make the exchange for stock of the present company, and they are not valid and have no value at the present time.

Fort Wayne & Southern Railroad Company. This company operated around 1864. No record can be found of the company's operations for a great many years. The company's interest warrants and coupons were reported valueless in 1904 and we submit them as such at the present time.

General Mortgage and Discount Company. Organized in December, 1921, under a Declaration of Trust in Delaware to do a general mortgage and discount business in first and second real estate mortgages, construction loans, trade acceptance notes and secured open accounts. Authorized capital stock 2,000,000 shares, common, of no par value and $2,000,000 preferred, par $10. The first allotment, $1,000,000 of preferred, bears 8 per cent. yearly dividends payable quarterly, F. N. A. & N. 1. $1,000,000 of preferred and 50,000 shares of common were offered in April, 1922, in units of two shares of preferred and one of common on the basis of par for the preferred and $4 a share for the common. In offering the second and third allotments (to be decided by directors) the dividends on the preferred will be reduced to 7 per cent and 6 per cent. respectively, and the price of the common was to gradually advance to $10 per share, the same as preferred. We understand that preferred dividends were paid regularly, 2 per cent. quarterly F. M. A. & N. 1, we believe through 1922. We have no information after this period. The officers were Hon. J. F. Denney, president, W. A. Shepherd, secretary and treasurer; directors, Edwin C. Thompson, Harrisburg, Pa.; D. R. Knight, Cambridge, Mass.; R. L. Williston, Northampton, Mass.; H. E. Thurston, Portland, Maine; Harry E. Sweeney, Stroudsburg, Pa. and E. C. Burton, Chester, Pa. The board of trustees consisted of Hon. J. F. Denney, Portland; Hon. Wm. Spry, Washington, D. C.; Hon. J. Arnold, W. E. Sheppard, N. Y.; R. L. Williston, Northampton, Mass. It was reported that company had an office at 343 Madison Avenue, New York, but there is no evidence of an office there at the present time. There is no market for the stock and we believe it to be of no value. The office of the Secretary of State of Delaware reports that the "General Mortgage and Discount Company" is not a title of a Delaware Corporation. It was, however, incorporated under a Declaration of Trust in Delaware, in which does not necessarily mean that it is on State records.

General Oil Co. This company was incorporated in Texas about 1921 with a capital stock of $20,000,000. On October 18, 1921, company was placed in the hands of a receiver, but in March, 1921, company was declared solvent and receiver was subsequently removed. However, at this time, S. E. J. Cox, pres. and founder of the company, and all the old trustees, were removed upon removement of both factors. On November 12, 1921, receiver was again appointed as the result of a suit filed by the Lincoln State Bank, et al, all of Chicago. It was later planned in April, 1922, to reorganize the company into the General Petroleum Co. with a capital of $1,000,000 preferred stock and 1,000,000 shares common stock of no par value. Stock of the new company was to be distributed on the basis of one share of new company for six shares in old company and a charge of five cents a share for expenses in exchange. On July 19, 1922, charges of deception in the sale of stock promotion made against S. E. J. Cox, his wife, N. E. Cox, The Prudential Oil & Refining Co., and all were ordered to "cease and desist" from any such further practice. We do not know whether or not the reorganization was consummated but the last quotations we have are on November 18, 1925, at 3 offered and on August 25, 1926, at two offered, with no bids. On December 17, 1920 the Texas charter was revoked and the company dissolved and we consider the stock of no value. See Vol. I.

On November 1, 1913, the Georgia & Florida Railway defaulted in the payment of interest due upon its first mortgage 5 per cent. 50-year bonds, and on March 27, 1915, receivers were appointed. Under the Georgia & Florida Railway Plan and Agreement of Reorganization dated October 18, 1926, holders of certificates of deposit representing Georgia & Florida Railway general mortgage 6 per cent. bonds received the following: "The holders of each $1,000 of such bonds with coupons due August 1, 1913, and all subsequent coupons attached, paying 2½ per cent. of the principal amount of such bond, or $25 for each $1,000 such bond, received—Scrip representing one-fourth of a share of preferred stock and five shares no-par value common stock." When the road was reorganized in 1926 an assessment of 2½ per cent. was placed on these bonds for which, as your letter recites, one-fourth share preferred and 5 shares common stock of the new company were given. This offer expired December, 1926, and as no further provision was made for the old bonds we are advised by counsel that they are of no value."

German Gold & Uranium Mining Company. Incorporated in Pennsylvania in 1908. Capital stock $1,000,000 increased from $500,000, par value $1. The owner of the mine was trying to locate radium to benefit humanity and was planning to turn over any radium found to the proper institutions. It was reported in the press that Mr. William A. Wright bought up a large amount of the stock for a few cents a share and in turn sold it to farmers in Perkiomen Valley for prices as high as $1.75 to $2.00 per share. An investigation resulted and Wright was put under arrest. The active records of the department of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania do not disclose a company by this name. In March, 1919, 100 shares of this stock sold at $2.00 the lot at auction, and since then there are no quotations and we therefore believe the company has dropped out of existence and the stocks to have no value.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY — NEW YORK

Biggest in the World, More Assets, More Policyholders, More Insurance in Force, More New Insurance

NOT BEST BECAUSE THE BIGGEST, BUT BIGGEST BECAUSE THE BEST

Company, we understand, was later succeeded by the Gibraltar Sales Company, but we do not believe they made any great progress under this name as their office, also reported at 31 Union Square, New York City, was not in evidence after 1922 or 1923 so far as our records show. These Class A shares have not been quoted since 1921. In 1925, the Delaware charter of a company by this name was repealed for non-payment of two years' taxes. Stock of this company was sold with the understanding that stockholders were to receive a 25 per cent. discount on tires purchased by them. This same plan has been made use of by several stock selling enterprises, several of which have come to grief. It is our opinion that these Class A shares are of no value whatsoever.

Globe Rubber Tire Manufacturing Company. Incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware about 1915 or previous thereto with a capital stock of $1,750,000. Company had an issue of $600,000 3-year 6 per cent notes which were issued in 1923(?). The Coal & Iron National Bank of New York, was the trustee for the issue. On December 22, 1926, 660 shares of stock sold at auction for $25 the lot. On August 11, 1923, 25 of the notes sold at auction at $250 the lot. The Delaware charter was declared void on January 20, 1928. The last reported officers were as follows: H. W. Kugler, president; R. E. Glass, vice-president; F. H. Craig, secretary; J. V. Iverson, treasurer. Directors: H. W. Kugler, R. E. Glass, W. G. Besler, A. S. Gilbert, J. F. Cogan, H. L. Joyce and J. S. Broughton, and an office last reported at 1753 Broadway in 1923. The Coal & Iron National Bank, trustee for the note issue, or its successor, the Fidelity Trust Company of New York, have not rendered any services as trustee since 1924. The company passed into the hands of the Creditors Committee who, in an endeavor to get the concern going and work out the proposition, constituted $160,000 new money, but after a year or two it was found that there was no market for the tires, and then discovered that there was a large claim against the company by the Government besides a large amount of additional money that would have to be put in to pay off back taxes. The factory was old and obsolete and no bidders could be obtained for the same. Realizing that there was no possibility of even getting back the amount of money which was put in by the Creditors Committee, the members of the committee sold their claims amounting to $160,000 to Governor Stokes of Trenton, New Jersey, for twenty-five cents on the dollar. It is our opinion that the company became absolutely bankrupt with no assets whatever and that insofar as the preferred and common stock is concerned, it is absolutely valueless. Mr. H. J. Tyall, attorney, 31 Nassau Street, New York City, was attorney for the creditors. On January 20, 1928, the charter of this company was repealed for non-payment of taxes.

Go Gas Company. Incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware to operate a line of service stations in the east with a capital stock of $2,500,000 preferred stock, $2,250,000 class A common stock and 100,000 shares of class B common of no par value. In the early part of 1925 the company was having difficulty meeting its obligations through lack of sufficient cash. Receivers for company were appointed on February 9, 1925, and subsequently on September 21, 1925, the Cities Service Refining Company foreclosed on a blanket mortgage on all properties of Go-Gas Company in Massachusetts and part of Connecticut amounting to $164,298. Property affected by this mortgage was appraised at $218,000 in November, 1924. In April, 1926, company issued $700,000 mortgage securing bonds for that amount to raise money to pay creditors and help in a proposed reorganization. The company, however, failed to pay the interest and make deposits to the sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds as required by trust agreement and the Equitable Trust Company of New York foreclosed on the property in Pennsylvania, under the mortgage on December, 1926. We understand similar foreclosure suits were instituted in Federal Districts in which Go-Gas Company had property. Several attempts were made to reorganize the company but we understand the company was never reorganized. Properties of the company located in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Pennsylvania were ordered sold in February, 1927. The Equitable Trust Company advises that the property of the Go-Gas Company was sold as a whole at the various foreclosure sales, which were held in every county in which the property was situated, to the Unity Petroleum Corporation, 25 Beaver Street, New York, for a sum insufficient to pay the mortgage debt. We understand that the Unity Petroleum Corporation has resold some of the property to other companies and that some of the property resold is Connecticut property. The trustee also says that as far as they are aware, the company was never reorganized and owns no property of any value other than that which was sold on foreclosure, free and clear of all equity of redemption by the company or its stockholders, or creditors.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY — NEW YORK

Biggest in the World, More Assets, More Policyholders, More Insurance in Force, More New Insurance

NOT BEST BECAUSE THE BIGGEST, BUT BIGGEST BECAUSE THE BEST

that as fast as the dredge would remove the sand and gravel, the next wave would drag in more and they were never able to go deep enough to reach the gold. Several of the largest stockholders were members of the crew operating the dredge and tried every conceivable plan to get down to the gold before acknowledging defeat. In the meantime, it was observed that several other devices that were tried also failed. The machine and every other conceivable asset that this company had, were swept away to sea at the time that Nome was destroyed by a terrific storm during the winter of 1911 or 1912. We have been informed by a former director of the company that all who put their money into the company lost it. We therefore believe the stock worthless at the present time.

Morrison of Kingman, Arizona, was reported to be the statutory agent and the Overland Securities Company of Denver, was reported to be the Registrar. The Arizona Corporation Commission informed us in 1916 that the company had not complied with the law in that no reports had been filed for 1912-13-14 or 1915, nor the fees in matter paid, amounting to $80.00. On July 21, 1922, Phillips & Company of 5 Doane Street, Boston, Mass., bid for 1500 shares at market; but had no offers. The properties were located at Goldfield, Nevada. In October, 1906, this stock was offered by J. J. Bamberger & Company, New York City, at 12½ cents per share and in 1908, we find the following in regard to these shares. "Looks like a stock selling proposition. The promoters sometimes make bids for it, but you are lucky if you can sell any." In April, 1910, it was reported that considerable development work had been accomplished and the stock was offered at 6 cents a share, but in August, 1910, the company was considered a "dead issue". It was stated by brokers that a market for the stock could not be found. In view of the fact that persons familiar with the affairs of the company state that its stock cannot be disposed of at any price, we believe these shares to be of no value. The last mention made of the stock was by Phillips & Company of Boston, on December 8, 1923, when there were no wants or offerings.

Guanacevi Tunnel Co. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona with a capital of 1,000,000 shares of the par value of $5. Owned 22 properties at Guanacevi, Santiago, in the state of Durango, Mexico. Understand from "The Mining Age" that the company started to run tunnels to cut at depth veins of copper, gold and silver which were exposed on the surface. Before these tunnels reached the ore bodies, the company's treasury was exhausted and a trustee took possession, pending such time as it should be possible to re-finance the proposition. No such action has since been undertaken and the property has been closed down for several years. Some years ago the stock was actively dealt in on the New York Curb but there has been no quotation for five or six years and it is very unlikely that the shares have any value at present.

Hare & Chase, Inc. A reorganization plan, dated December 30, 1927, evolved and was later consummated for the Hare & Chase, Inc. in the early part of 1928, as a result of the company having become financially involved. The company suffered losses of $5,489,119.01 during the year on account of bad automobile paper and further losses were incurred from writing off bad assets, closing out branches, etc. The company had an indebtedness to creditors of $3,690,880.46. Assets consisted of a claim against the National Surety Company for $3,295,588.35 for which Hare & Chase Company had to institute a suit to recover. At the time of the publication of the reorganization, this action was still pending. Other assets consisted of notes receivable which constituted collateral for bank loans, which at time of plan were subject to pending litigation. As a result of the plan, the stockholders are entitled to surrender their stock to the Philadelphia-Girard National Bank in exchange for stock of the United States Acceptance Corporation. We understand from Clark, Clark, McCarthy and Wagner, attorneys, 1529 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, that Hare and Chase has no assets at the present time, and no liquidating payments have been or will be made other than the exchange of Hare & Chase, Inc. for stock of the United States Acceptance Corporation. A copy of the reorganization plan is in our hands and should you desire any further information pertaining to it, we will be glad to furnish you with them.

The estate of George W. Head, Jr., owned practically all of the stock of said company. Said company is now in the process of dissolution and papers have already been filed in Albany for such purpose. There are no assets of any kind, nature or description belonging to said Publishing Company, as far as we can ascertain. Hecla Company. Incorporated under the laws of Michigan in December, 1905, and owned a cement plant in Bay City, Michigan. Had outstanding $850,300 capital stock, shares $25 par. No bonds. General office was at Detroit, Michigan. Was in process of liquidation beginning July, 1911, under direction of the Court. Dissolved March 4, 1914.

Hecla Consolidated Mines Company. Organized under the laws of Wyoming in 1909, with a capital stock of $5,000,000, par $1, as a merger of the Hecla Mining Company, Amalgamated Copper Mining and Extraction Company, and Kopper Krown Mining Company. The property was described as consisting of 610 acres and a 35-acre townsite in the Silver Crown District, 4 miles from Granite Canyon on the Union Pacific Railroad, and 7 miles from the Cheyenne Northern Line, Laramie County, Wyoming. The last officers known were: Henry Schwartz, president; W. L. Wilson, vice-president; J. F. Upson, secretary, and Eli Miller, treasurer, and the office was at 1624 Curtis Street, Denver, Colorado. The management of the Hecla Mining Company, and the preceding corporations, which also had Mr. Schwartz as president and general manager, peddled "guaranteed" stock, claiming that 5 per cent. interest was guaranteed for three years by United States Government bonds, but nobody seems to have seen the bonds. It is reported that the Kopper Krown Mining Company advertised that it planned building a smelter, and was ready to ship on a moment's notice, but failed to receive the notice. It was further reported that the prospectus of the Hecla Consolidated Mines Company stated that it was "one of the most substantial conservative and successful mining organizations in the entire west", which was a remarkable claim, considering the past history of the company. In 1910, company was said to be idle, except for annual assessment work and in 1920, company was reported dead and that letters addressed to the company at the only known address—care of Henry Schwartz, President, 308 Masonic Building, Denver, Colorado—had been returned unclaimed. In 1925, company was reported out of existence and in view of the fact that it has been reported dead for so many years and the past poor history of the company, we do not attach any value to the capital stock. There are no public sales or quotations reported and the stock has no present or future market value.

Hecla Copper Mining Company. Incorporated under the laws of Wyoming in 1901. Letters were returned unclaimed from former office, Manistee, Michigan, and former mine office, Encampment, Carbon County, Wyoming, about 1906. Lands were four claims, area about 30 acres, adjoining the Kurtz Chatterton. It is our opinion that these shares are of no value at the present time.

Hecla Copper & Gold Mining, Milling & Smelting Company. Organized under the laws of Wyoming. Capital stock: $1,000,000. Par: 5 cents. Property: Company owns 16 mining claims of 20 acres each, four miles from Granite Canyon Station, on the Union Pacific R. R., in southern Wyoming. Officers: Henry Schwartz, president; Emerson J. Short, secretary. Address: 331 Kittredge Bldg., Denver, Colorado. Remarks: In October, 1904, this company was reorganized as the Hecla Mining Company, which company was well spoken of in 1906. The Hecla Copper & Gold Mining, Milling & Smelting Company was offering its stock at 5 cents a share in 1902 and 1903, but after the reorganization no trace can be found of the company. We do not find that any provision was made for the old stockholders in this reorganization and as the company was not operating its property to any extent at that time, we do not believe the stock has any value at the present time.

Hecla Divide Mining Company, Tonopah, Nevada. Nevada charter forfeited for non-payment of taxes July 1, 1927.

Hecla Mining Company, Fayetteville, Arkansas. Incorporated January 8, 1907. Authority revoked by Governor's proclamation of April 23, 1923, under Act No. 158 of 1923.

Hecla Mining Company. Incorporated under the laws of Wyoming in 1904 as a reorganization of the Hecla Copper & Gold Mining, Milling & Smelting Co. Had $1,000,000 capital stock, shares $1 par. Owned mineral lands located in Laramie County, Wyoming. Was promoted by Henry Schwartz, who claimed that 5 per cent. interest was guaranteed for 3 years on the investment by United States Government bonds. Was apparently out of cash and hopelessly involved when in 1909 the company was consolidated with others to form the Hecla Consolidated Mines Company. Stock worthless.

Hendrickson Furnace and Manufacturing Company. Organized under the laws of New York prior to 1873. Henrietta Copper Mining Company. Incorporated: Colorado. Date: April, 1916. Capital: $3,000,000. Par value: $1. History: Successor to the Henrietta Mining & Milling Company with property near Silverton, Colorado. This company suffered from a complication of bad luck and similar financial conditions and the property was taken over by the Henrietta Copper Mining Company. Property: About 6 miles north of Silverton in Prospect Gulch, Red Mountain, San Juan County. Officers: E. R. Moodie, president; N. M. Abbott, secretary and treasurer. Address: 1816 California Street, Denver, Colorado. Mine address: E. W. Walter, manager, Silverton, Colorado. Capitalization of the Golden Consolidated is $1,000,000, par 1 cent.

Henrietta Holding & Mining Company. Incorporated in Colorado prior to 1910. The company has failed to make annual reports or pay license fees since the time of incorporation, accordingly, no trace of the company can be found. On September 3, 1913, the charter of the company was declared inoperative and void. In view of the above and since there have been no sales or quotations of the stock for many years, we believe it without value at the present time.

Henrietta Milling & Mining Co. Incorporated under the laws of Colorado on January 17, 1909, with an authorized capital stock of $3,000,000 common and preferred with a par value of $1 each share. The last annual report was filed in 1910. Company owed taxes for 1910, '11, '12 and 1913, and Secretary of State of Colorado subsequently declared the company defunct and inoperative on September 3, 1913. Bonds are dated October 1, 1920, due October 1, 1923, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum payable at the office of the Board of Drainage Commissioners at Stockbridge, Georgia. This District is in the hands of J. D. McCullough of Stockbridge, Georgia, as receiver, who was appointed by the Court about three years ago. We understand that very little of the assessments have been paid and the Court has granted the bondholders and land holders until August, 1928, to come to some agreement of settlement. If they fail to do so, the Court will in all probability order the lands sold. A great many of the holders of the bonds are offering to sell at 25 cents on the dollar, but there are no bids at any price and local bankers acquainted with the situation consider the bonds comparatively worthless.

High Top Copper Mining Company. This company was incorporated in New Jersey on December 11, 1901, capital stock authorized $5,000,000, par value $10. The office was located at Room 1552, 150 Nassau Street, New York City, with mine office at Elkton, Rockingham County, Virginia. The officers were as follows: Morris D. Brown, president; Prentice W. Brown, secretary and treasurer, and S. D. Brown, general manager. The property consisted of about 1,000 acres in Greene County, Virginia. In 1909, the company was reported idle and moribund. However, in the same year (1909) the company was reorganized as the High Top Mining Corp., Ind., in Arizona. Little money has been spent on the property since the time this company acquired it. The property shows spots of copper ore but the mineralized zone as a whole is considered too lean to work at a profit. The property has been visited by various geologists and described in official government reports and warnings of the low grade ore were given. At present the company is idle. The New Jersey charter of the High Top Copper Mining Company was declared null and void for non-payment of taxes on January 25, 1906, and in 1916, the charter of the High Top Mining Corp. was forfeited for failure to comply with the laws. No value was found for this stock on June 18, 1919, for inheritance tax purposes. We therefore believe, in view of the above, that this stock is without value.

Bonds authorized $150,000 first gold 5s dated February 1, 1905, due February 1, 1935. Interest paid F and A at Title Insurance and Trust Company, Los Angeles, California and New York. In November, 1915, voting trustees were appointed to manage the business and under plan stockholders were to deposit certificates with the Bank of Commerce & Trust Company of San Diego in exchange for trustees' certificates that were transferable like stock certificates. This plan, however, failed of adoption by some 300 shares. In March, 1918, property of company was sold at foreclosure sale and purchased by T. A. Thompson for $175,000, who acted as agent for Title Insurance & Trust Company until bondholders are satisfied. Bonds were placed under option and held in trust by the Title Insurance & Trust Company. We are informed by the new company that there is nothing in the town records in regard to the Home Woolen Company, that is, as far as a settlement is concerned. Home & County Publishing Company. Reported to have been incorporated under the laws of Illinois but the Secretary of that State informs us that there is no record of a company by that name, either foreign or domestic, in his office. Company reported to have had a capitalization of $1,500,000. Its publication was the Home & County Magazine, formerly called "Men & Women." Officers were reported as follows: President, F. X. Piatt, Cincinnati, Ohio; secretary, D. A. Fraser, Cincinnati, Ohio; vice-president, S. H. Wyss, Alton, Illinois. It was reported in the press in the summer of 1915 that a receiver had been asked in a suit filed in the Superior Court of Cincinnati by the Farmers' State Bank of Camden, Indiana. The cashier of that bank informs us that they know nothing of this company and as far as they know no such suit was ever filed by them. It was alleged that a judgment for $459 for the services of stenographers and printers remained unpaid. About 100,000 women held stock in the company and we understand the stock selling operations were conducted almost entirely by telegraph. In view of the foregoing we do not believe the stock has any value at the present time.

The capital stock was offered for sale in 1909 and 1910 by J. O. Walsh and Co. of New York City at 40 to 50 cents a share, the par value being $1. The Delaware charter became inoperative and void in March, 1917, and was so proclaimed by the Governor on January 28, 1918, for non-payment of taxes. In 1913, the assets and property of the Honduras Rubber Co. was sold to P. L. Wilber, president of the Tropical Timber Co. for $100,000, payable in four years, and stockholders were given the privilege of purchasing the preferred stock of the latter company. In 1918 we were informed that the Tropical Timber Company had earned nothing for a number of years and that the liabilities far exceeded the assets and that the company had operated on borrowed capital. It is quite apparent that the stockholders of the Honduras Rubber Co. were wiped out and in our opinion the stock is of no value.

Hoosac Tunnel Mining & Milling Company. Property and operations not reported. Capital stock $1,000,000. Was a stock selling scheme promoted by Pierce Underwood.

Hoosac Tunnel & Mining Company. Company was formed some time prior to 1906 with an authorized capital stock of $1,500,000, par $1 each, to bore the Hoosac Tunnel near Idaho Springs, Idaho, to tap the mining district in that locality. At the time the property was reported to consist of 5 patented claims, aggregating 22 acres, at the base of Belle View Mountain and approximately 20 acres of adjoining placer land adjoining tract of Colorado Central Branch of the Colorado and Southern Ry., 2 miles west of Idaho Springs, Idaho. Company was promoted by Pierce Underwood of Chicago, Ill., and in this connection it is interesting to make note of the following article appearing in the press of January 12, 1918, being an answer to financial inquiry submitted by an investor having purchased stock of some other company promoted by Pierce Underwood. The question submitted was—Can you tell me how I can get my stock purchased through Pierce Underwood? And in reply the press article stated: "We cannot, but you are just as well off, perhaps better, for without it you will not have an additional reminder that you have been swindled. The stock is worthless. For about fifteen years Pierce Underwood had been selling near worthless stocks to women and feeble old men. None of his promotions ever made good. The Hoosac Tunnel was perhaps worse than most others. About $600,000 was sunk in the scheme. Underwood was formerly a solicitor of advertising for religious publications." In November, 1908, the stockholders brought suit against E. D. Quigley, H. P. Dickinson, Charles Thompson, F. T. Boot, H. W. Harrington, Pierce Underwood and the Securities Corporation of Chicago, for an accounting and receivership, claiming mismanagement and that E. D. Quigley failed to look after the affairs of the company which it was said had remained idle for some time past with no effort to prosecute work. In 1914 about 1,000 of the stockholders joined together and formed the Hoosac Tunnel Stockholders' Protective Association for the purpose of ousting the officers and for the protection of their interests. Previous to this the property had been mortgaged to the extent of $100,000, the money having been subscribed by certain of the stockholders and subsequently it was reported that the president of the company had borrowed $20,000 from a Denver bank on a 90-day note. Interest and principal was defaulted and at the expiration of the 90-day note the property was sold at foreclosure. Subsequently the New Life Tunnel & Mining Company was organized in an effort to put the company on a profitable basis but without avail and later on the new company went out of business and the property was offered for sale in December, 1922. There is no market for the stock and as the promotion has been dead for some years we consider the stock without value.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY — NEW YORK

Huntsville, Alabama Gas Light & Fuel Company. This company was in receiver's hands for many months and eventually sold at receiver's sale to Lawrence Cooper, as trustee, for $25,000. Company was then reorganized to the Huntsville Consolidated Gas Company. The majority of bonds of the Huntsville, Alabama Gas Light & Fuel Company, which were represented by a bondholders' committee, received securities of the reorganized company in exchange. We understand that if there are any outstanding bonds of the Huntsville, Alabama Gas Light & Fuel Company the court in Huntsville, Alabama, have their shares of the purchase price, in cash. The stock of this company, however, is worthless. The Huntsville Consolidated Gas capital stock is also worthless. The bonds of this company were foreclosed and the property did not realize a sum sufficient to pay but a small percentage to the bondholders, making the capital stock valueless. We understand that the present company, which was reorganized after the foreclosure of the Huntsville Consolidated Gas Company, was organized with a bonded indebtedness of twice the value of the plant. If there is any further information you require, we suggest that you communicate with Lawrence Cooper of Cooper & Cooper of Huntsville, Alabama, who is familiar with the affairs of these companies.

July 1, 1919. The property subject to Adjustment Mortgage was sold by our company and Lyman Rhoades, as trustee under the above mortgage, on September 14, 1928, pursuant to section 5 (a) of article seven of said mortgage, to Mr. Murray Brookman for $4,000 which was merely a nominal bid, the real consideration being an agreement of the adjustment committee to liquidate the property purchased by Mr. Brookman in their behalf and to apply the proceeds after paying expenses toward the payment of the bonds. Mr. Brookman was acting on behalf of the adjustment committee, the members of which were appointed by the mortgage itself as the representatives of the bondholders. It is our understanding that the property which was subject to the mortgage can be best liquidated by carrying on the process of liquidation instituted by the mortgager company, i. e.; by making sales of lands and water rights to settlers, and by collecting the purchasing price of the various lands and water rights previously sold and to be sold over a period of years. This is the plan of the committee, and Mr. Brookman, who has had a great deal of experience with irrigation projects of this kind will act as their agent in carrying out the proposed liquidation. In other words, the situation now is that the committee has been substituted for the company and the trustees as the agency by means of which the property will be liquidated for the bondholders. We are of course unable to say when a sufficient sum will have been collected by the committee to warrant a distribution on the bonds, but it will not be for some time, because there are expenses of the sale and counsel fees for services rendered to the trustees over a long period of years which will have to be paid first. For any further information we would suggest that you write to Mr. R. B. Marchant, treasurer of the company and one of the members of the adjustment committee, whose address is 37 Wall Street, New York City."

Ideal Tire & Rubber Company. This company was located in Ohio and in 1921, was in receiver's hands. Receivers were: Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War, and E. S. Griffith, president of the Cleveland Machine and Manufacturing Company. It was reported in 1921, that there were numerous suits against the company in Ohio courts and that the open accounts and other obligations of the company were considerably more than current assets. We understand that nothing was being paid to creditors at the time of receivership as money taken in from sales was being used to keep the plant in operation. The Ohio charter of this company was cancelled on February 14, 1925, having failed to file reports or any annual fees since 1923. We have tried to locate a market for the stock, but find that the last time it was quoted was on January 10, 1924, by Donald Friedman & Company of New York, when it was offered at market, with no bids. We therefore believe that this stock has no value at the present time.

Idora Hill Mining Company. This company was incorporated about 1915, or previous thereto and secured an option and lease upon the property of the Tuscumbia Mining Company. The option to purchase the property was given for $225,000 covering the Tuscumbia, Seattle, Tacoma, Butte, and Wallace claims and a water right and mill site on Beaver Creek in the Sunset District. The payments covered we understand, a period of two years, $11,250 being due on or before six months from date; $11,250 on or before nine months; $33,750 in one year; $56,250 in eighteen months and the balance or $112,500 within two years. The option provided that upon making the first payment, deeds conveying title to the property were to be placed in escrow in the Old National Bank of Spokane. The purchasers had the right to develop the property, but had no right to mine or ship ores until after the second payment was made. In 1915, the Idora Mining Company, Ltd., was organized as a reorganization of the Idora Hill Mining Company, taking over the latter's properties for $100,000. We assume that the Idora Hill Mining Company did not complete its payments on the property which resulted in the subsequent reorganization. The Idora Mining Company, Ltd., has been idle since 1917, and we do not locate any recent quotations of either companies and we believe the stock to be of no value as of April 19, 1928. On July 1, 1916, the Washington charter of the Idora Hill Mining Company was declared forfeited for failure to pay license fees.

Imperial Consolidated Mining Company. Company was incorporated April 29, 1913, under the laws of Arizona, as a reconstruction of the Waldorf Consolidated Mining Company. Company's properties said to consist of 600 acres, patented, including the Tobin Mine, in the East Argentine District, showing a strong fissure vein with a 3-inch pay streak of gold bearing copper ore. After idleness of several years, activities were resumed in 1915 and it was said in 1918 that mill capacity was expected to be doubled. This was another of the Lawsonized Mines, Thomas A. Lawson was boosting this property in 1919 and it was reported to have yielded millions of dollars when silver was 50c an ounce. There has been no recent information in regard to this company, but its shares were listed on the Boston Curb in February 1924. There is no evidence that company itself was actively operated since 1918, but its holdings have been under lease at various times by a number of different companies, e.g., Pioneer Consolidated Mines Company (now defunct), United Imperial Mining Company, Gilpin Development Company (now also defunct), and The Palisades Copper Company which was the last company reported to be operating the mine. Edward J. Wilcox was president of this company with an office in Little Building, Boston, mine office, Georgeton, Colorado, Hy Butler, superintendent. In literature put out by company the capitalization, officers and details of mine development, sampling seemed to have been omitted, conveniently, or otherwise. The records of the state of Arizona show that the last known address (1924) was Edward J. Wilcox, president, 233 Coronado Bldg., Denver, Colo. Action was taken against the company by the state of Arizona on May 27, 1924 to suspend all its corporate rights and franchises in order to declare the corporation legally dead.

On December 31, 1921, 1,000 shares were sold at auction by Adrian H. Muller & Sons, at $10 the lot.
